“ My uncle Don was my favorite uncle. He was so funny and personable. You never knew what was going to come out of his mouth. I will always treasure the time he spent with my dad when he was dying. He never left his side, with the exception of going home to take a shower or get us something to eat! He was a true uncle and brother to my dad! He is also known as "Mouse" and the Melrose missile! Go rest high on that mountain Uncle Don! You were truly lived and are missed by so many!

I am so sad to hear of Mouse's passing. His dad, Jim, and my dad, D.A. Gleason graduated from Eagle Rock H.S. together. They were very close friends. Our farm, the Gleason's, was 2 miles up the James River, from Glen Wilton, Va.. Mouse was visiting my neighbor, Rick Flocker, one day as I was mowing the grass, and upon leaving Rick's Mouse stopped his car and yelled at me. We had a wonderful hour long conversation about his family, and mine that shared the same little town in the mountains of Virginia.

Mouse won my friendship that day.

I'll miss seeing him, and talking about our footprints in the red clay dirt of Glen Wilton, Virginia.

With Deepest Sympathy...

Joe Gleason
