“ Saying goodbye to a brother was not on my list. Keith was godliest man I have ever known. The best father and an example of pure love as a husband. Even as a little boy, he wanted many children, the house of our grandparents, and a beautiful wife. He exceeded those expectations. Who knew that the rambunctious little blonde boy would grow up into the magnificent example of what a godly man is too strive. The love he carried for his family and for God were unparalleled. I will miss him greatly, as will everyone that loved him so. Goodbye baby brother, until we meet again. ”
