“ Kenny and I met middle school brought me out of my shyness and told me to never worry about what others think and we ended up dating for a while but parents never let me see him so we just remain friends and still was until he passed we always checked on each other and he even came and seen my sister who was literally on her death bed and he prayed over her and told us she was gonna be fine and she is it's crazy how life works and how he knew and he told us that he only had a year left and every chance we could we checked on one another this breaks my heart seeing good people go so young!!! You will be missed KENNY Was a great friend great person in general!!!
